UNLEASHED, INGESTED AND STORMRULER TO INFERNO 2023

Sweden's veteran death metal band Unleashed, British death metal outfit Ingested and American black metal band Stormruler are confirmed for Inferno Metal Festival 2023.

UNLEASHED

Unleashed was formed in Stockholm, Sweden in November 1989, and sprang from the ashes of the pioneer death metal band Nihilist. Unleashed, along with a few more bands founded what is today called the Swedish death metal scene. There have been very few line-up changes throughout the years and the band still consist of the same members from the 90s. The band has kept to the roots and never followed the trends. It's been twelve years since Unleashed performed at Inferno Metal Festival and Oslo – so we welcome them back with pride!

INGESTED

British death metal band Ingested have been around since 2006. Since then the band has released six critically acclaimed albums of brutal death metal and deathcore. In 2022 they will return with a brand new album called "Ashes Lie Still". The band has only once before been in Norway so we are happy to have them at Inferno Metal Festival for the very first time!

STORMRULER

The St. Louis-based two-man project Stormruler combines unrelenting black metal atmosphere and vision from varying metal genres with a brutal, modernized twist of inspiration culled from high-fantasy and history. Stormruler released their debut album "Under the Burning Eclipse" in 2019 and now they are back with the second album "Sacred Rites & Black Magick". With ominous instrumental ambience and incendiary black metal riffs and fury, the album tells harrowing tales of war, death, victory and defeat, and delivers an unmatched, hellscape auditory experience. This will be Stormruler's first time in Norway!
